Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, had the afternoon to fill Clifford in on the latest military situation, especially the reportedly growing threat of a third major enemy offensive against Saigon and another threat to the northern frontier.

South Vietnamese intelligence sources said there were indications of an enemy buildup along the Cambodian border and in Hau Nghia province, both to the west of Saigon.

The U.S. Command's morning communique today reported not a single ground action.

HINTON HOMEMAKERS EXTENSION CLUB MEETS

The Hinton Homemakers Extension Club met July 8th in the home of Mrs. Verdo Hollis. The meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Hollis.

The devotional was given by the hostess, Genesis 18:22, 23, 25. The program was on "Home Management." The Lesson was "Be Wise With Your Buys." Mrs. Douglas Waters won the surprise package.

Five members and one guest Miss Davin Hollis, were served refreshments by the hostess, Sherry Hollis.

The meeting was adjourned to meet the 12th of August at the Fair Park at 7:30 p.m. for a picnic supper.

PERRYTOWN EXTENSION CLUB MEETS

Perrytown Extension Homemakers met Thursday night, July 11 at the home of Mrs. Anna Lee Roberts. Mrs. Francis Fairchild called the meeting to order and gave the thought of the month, "Wisdom Consists of Knowing What to Do With What You Know."

The devotional was given by Mrs. Roberts. Mrs. Fairchild had the lesson "Be Wise With Your Buys." Also roll call was answered with each one giving a hint on how to be a better shopper. Mrs. C.W. Winemiller gave the reading of the minutes and money was turned in for the sale of soap holders. Everyone enjoyed grab bags of funny hats which were molded.

The next meeting in August will be a picnic at Fair Park with members, families and guests. The meeting was adjourned by repeating the Homemakers' Prayer.

The hostess served sandwiches, chips, cookies and cokes to seven members and four guests, Misses Sheila Martin, Donna Fairchild, Terri and Sherri Patterson.

WEDDING PARTY HONORED WITH DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beyerley and Mr. and Mrs. James Gunter, Jr. had a dinner at the Beyerley home after the rehearsal for the King-Purdy wedding July 12. The future bride, Miss Dora Ann King, wore a green dress and had a fleur d'amour corsage.

Members of the wedding party and families of the engaged couple were seated at a U-shaped table decorated with daisies and dolls depicting the bride and groom, and their wedding attendants. A bride-and-groom decoration was also seen in the den.

Thirty guests attended the dinner, at which time Miss King and her fiancé, Don Purdy, presented gifts to members of their wedding party.

BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON HONORS MISS KING

A bridesmaids luncheon at the Diamond Saturday, July 13 concluded the pre-nuptial entertainments for Miss Dora Ann King. For the luncheon Miss King wore a tulle dress and pinned a daisy pom muna at her shoulder.

Miss Peggy King, who was her sister's maid of honor, was hostess for the noon gathering. The wedding colors, yellow and white, were carried out in the table decoration of yellow glads, carnations, and Shasta daisies. Covers were laid for 14.

BRIDESMAIDS LUNCHEON HONORS MISS FIELDING

On the day of her marriage to Byron Thomason, July 5, Miss Sharon Fielding was the guest of honor at the bridesmaids luncheon in the Heritage House with Mrs. Roy Allison and Miss Martha Allison as hostesses.

Miss Fielding had a corsage of small white orchids which Mrs. Allison had raised in her greenhouse. A gift of silver was also presented by the hostesses.

Pink and white flowers decorated the table where covers were laid for 15.

B & PW CLUB HAS CATFISH SUPPER

The Hope B & PW Club had its summer social meeting Thursday, July 11 at the Diamond, where a catfish supper was served to 36. The head table was decorated with daisies and a colorful fish net draped in front.

After the tasty meal was served at tables covered with red and white checked cloths, a few matters of business transpired under the direction of Margie

Vickers, president, and Opal Daniel, secretary.

Later in the evening, the group played games with several winning prizes, and lemonade was served. Everyone present received a gift of drinking mugs from the hostesses, Odell Collier and the finance committee.

In addition to the club members, other guests at the summer party were Mrs. Hazel Cross, Mrs. Mary Alice Davis, Mrs. Maxine Cornelius, all of Hope; Mrs. Helen Higbee of Fullerton, Calif.; and Mrs. Jane Nix of Phoenix, Ariz.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. William Perkins, Newark, O., were the weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. J. W. Perkins.

Capt. James N. Holt, Dayton, O., has been here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Holt.

Martha Allison spent the weekend with an Agnes-Scott classmate, Valerie Pearsall of Little Rock, on a lake in Hot Springs.

Among the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson of Washington this weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Watson, III and children, who are moving from Allice Springs, Australia, to Sacramento, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barnhart and 2 sons, Bastrop, La.; and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Watson, who are moving from Texarkana to Hope, where he will be in charge of the National Guard Armory.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

PICKY, PICKY, PICKY

Dear Helen: My husband continually picks, from morning till night. It's "What are you doing about the refrigerator, sink, cabinets, cellar, meals?" In fact, everything in the house and family comes in for constant criticism.

He refuses to accept promotions at work. He's anything but a leader among men but, oh boy, can he shoot off at home!

When I get satiated with his guff and ask lightly to be excused, he says I'm crabby and not a good helpmeet. I'm blamed for all that goes wrong in his life, and I've taken it because I didn't want to discourage him further. He's been discontented for as long as I can remember. With everything. So I just pull into my shell when the yapping gets too much.

What can I do? — PATIENT TURTLE

Turtle: You can quit taking it! Stop me if my IGAP went wrong, but I'd say your husband is a weak man who hates his weaknesses. So he sharpens his ego on the person who absorbs his picks and jabs.

Patience hasn't encouraged this male shrew to be a better man. Rather, your misdirected pampering may have helped ease him into failure. Come out of your shell, Turtle, and learn how to snap! — H.

Dear Helen: You know, as I do, that when a person is angry, depressed, or just plain "down," he or she looks for a release. It can be eating, drinking, smoking, picking at your family. I'm one of the eaters, and my figure proves it!

But I think I've found the answer. Why not, instead of doing destructive things: WRITE, as I'm doing now? It doesn't matter what you write, or to who — or maybe not to anyone. Just write.

I may never become an author or poet, but I might lose weight — unless I get too hungry and eat the paper, but there aren't many calories here. So I'm going to buy a great stock of it, and be prepared when I get bored again.

Now I've said it, back to work. — B.P.

Dear B.: Well, I've heard of the drinking man's diet (the wrong way). So now let's try "the Write Way to Weight Loss." Let me know how it turns out. — H.

Dear Helen: Could you tell me if it's true that in some states, if you lie about your age, you aren't legally married? We were married when I was 15, but I put down 18 and nobody questioned it because I looked old enough. I didn't have my mother's permission, but she accepted our marriage after we got home.

We now have four children and ten happy years together, but I've often wondered, should we get married over again to make it legal? — WONDERING

Dear Won: Not necessary. Had the marriage been challenged by you or your parents, an annulment might have been granted. It wasn't, so you're legal. — H.

Television and Radio

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — One year after the city of Newark was wracked by a disastrous riot the causes were examined in an exciting confrontation on ABC Sunday by eight persons affected by the disorder.

Frank Reynolds, who was host for the program, "Newark: Anatomy of a Riot," observed that "If the lessons of Newark weren't learned, your city can be next."

And if the people who participated in this program are representative of Newark, as they appeared to be, it seems that Newark itself hasn't learned much from a riot that killed 26 people and left sections of the city in ruins.

The same lack of understanding, the same hostilities, the same calcified viewpoints that evidently contributed to the riots were openly displayed. It didn't say much for the future of Newark.

At one point, as the accusations and recriminations mounted, Donald Malafronte, administrative assistant to Mayor Hugh Addonizio, said: "We are in some sort of tragic dance here, where we eat each other and berate each other and hate each other and curse each other."

But if this airing serves as a catharsis it will have had a useful purpose.

None of the participants could agree on the root causes of the riot.

Morris Spielberg, president of the Springfield Avenue Merchants Association, laid the blame on the "insensitivity" of City Hall. But Malafronte snapped that it was the merchants, not the city government, who were insensitive.

Negro panelists complained of storekeepers overcharging for shoddy goods. Robert Curvin, former chairman of the Newark chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the "horrible relations between the blacks and the police which still exist to this day," had to be considered.

He said that Negroes, who make up 52 per cent of the population, had to have more power in the city government. Warren Copeland, a young Negro, who lost his right leg due to a bullet wound he said was inflicted without reason by a policeman, said, "I just hope there is hope for us."

The program was the third in a series of six in ABC's "Time For America." The fourth, "Prejudice and the Police," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. EDT today.

On Friday night, NBC presented the first of four hour-long conversations "What's Happening to America?" The idea is to invite persons knowledgeable in government, history, sociology and allied fields to discuss the tensions and uncertainties afflicting the nation. Edwin Newman, an able and versatile newsman, is host for the series.

The first guests were Dr. C. Vann Woodward, a historian on the faculty at Yale, and Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, a Negro who is a professor of psychology at City College of New York.

The two professors suggested that America's history and its myths have caught up with us, leaving the nation facing a series of unsolved problems at home and abroad amid present affluence and past success.

Although the program lacked spark and impact, telling points were made about the anxieties arising from the war in Vietnam, violence, racism, poverty and the crisis in the cities.

Tiles for Walls

An inexpensive way to brighten wall areas is with self-adhering vinyl tiles. They are particularly good near the stove because they can be washed off repeatedly with soap or detergent.

Healthy House Plants

The cleanest families are apt to have the healthiest house plants, according to horticulturists at New York Botanical Gardens. Humidity created by baths and showers makes the bathroom an ideal part-time storage place for plants to protect them from the dry, overheated atmosphere of today's homes.

Summer Shades in Bath

Co-ordinate your bathroom with shades of aqua, navy and white, with perhaps a touch of green for a cool, airy look in the summer. Then simply change to bright yellows and oranges for more warmth in winter.

Lopez Happy as Chisox Win a Pair

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Lopez is back in business—and so is the American League pennant race.

Of course, one has nothing to do with the other—Senior Lopez and his Chicago White Sox are 18 games removed from first place—but they're both nice to have around.

Manager Jim Lemon of Washington had a hunch what was coming when he said to Lopez before Sunday's action, "I just lost three straight to the new manager in Baltimore; what are you going to do to me?"

The answer was a double-header sweep—7-2 and 6-5 in 10 innings—as the White Sox celebrated the return of Lopez as manager.

Elsewhere, Detroit lost to California 7-3 and saw its league lead sliced to 7½ games as second-place Baltimore beat the New York Yankees 6-4. Cleveland topped Minnesota 6-3 and the surging Boston Red Sox rallied to knock off Oakland 5-3.

In the National League, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 5-1, Atlanta downed San Francisco 4-2, Philadelphia swept the New York Mets 5-3 and 9-2, Houston took two from Cincinnati 5-4 in 10 innings and 6-1 and the Chicago Cubs turned back Pittsburgh 5-2. "That was a nice way to break in," said Lopez, who resigned following the 1965 season after nine years as White Sox manager. He came out of retirement when Eddie Stanky stepped down Friday. "Those guys made some great plays and we got some pretty good hitting."

Chicago won the opener on Jack Fisher's three-hit pitching and the slugging of Tommy Davis, who batted in two runs with a first-inning double and two more with a triple in the second. Frank Howard whacked his 26th homer for the Senators. A three-run rally tied the score in the seventh inning of the nightcap and the Sox won it on 10th-inning singles by Gerry McNertney, Wayne Causey and Luis Aparicio.

A week ago, Detroit was threatening to make a joke of the pennant race. But the Tigers have lost three of four since the All-Star break while Baltimore has won four in a row under new skipper Earl Weaver.

California didn't wait to make the Tigers start growling Sunday. Leadoff batter Vic Davalillo homered off Earl Wilson and Rick Reichardt cracked a two-run homer before the first inning was over.

A double by Davalillo and Don Mincher's single produced another run in the third and Bobby Knop stroked a two-run single in the fourth as the Angels ran up a 6-0 lead.

Baltimore smashed 13 hits, including a two-run homer by Boog Powell, but needed a strong relief job by Eddie Watt before downing the Yankees. The Yanks trailed 6-1 after seven innings but Roy White hit a two-run homer in the eighth and ninth-inning singles by Jack Gibbs and Bobby Cox knocked out Dave Leonhard. Watt fanned pinch hitter Bill Robinson and, after Horace Clarke singled home a run, also struck out Mickey Mantle and White. The Orioles trail Detroit by only six games in the all-important loss column.

Cleveland's Luis Tiant, who had shut out Minnesota twice previously, lasted only six innings and settled for a 6-3 victory with relief help from Stan Williams. It was Tiant's sixth straight victory and gave him a 15-5 record.

The Indians ripped into Jim Merritt for three runs in the third on a two-run single by Jose Azcue and Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly.

The defending champion Red Sox made it three wins in a row and 11 in their last 12 games by rallying to top Oakland. Handcuffed on three hits over seven innings, John "Blue Moon" Odom, the Sox erupted for four runs in the eighth and turned the game around.

Singles by Jose Tartabull, Mike Andrews and Dalton Jones loaded the bases and brought on reliever Paul Lindblad. Carl Yastrzemski belted a shot off Lindblad's leg, the ball ricocheting into left field for a game-tying two-run double. Jack Aker then came on and yielded sacrifice flies to Ken Harrelson and Rico Petrocelli.

Perry Colt Hollywood Cup Winner

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

William Haggin Perry owns a 1-2 punch of 4-year-old fillies named Gamely and Princessnesian. Well, for the time being, forget about No. 1.

It was No. 2, Princessnesian, who delivered the latest stakes knockout for Perry by winning the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup Saturday at Hollywood Park.

While Princessnesian was besting Gamely, who finished out of the money, and nine male opponents, the premier thoroughbred of last year, Damascus, once again failed to reach the million-dollar mark in career earnings.

Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's 1967 Horse of the Year finished third behind Bold Hour and Mr. Right in the $111,000 Amory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park.

Meanwhile, Greentree Stable's Stage Door Johnny strengthened his claim to the No. 1 ranking among this year's 3-year-olds by winning the $81,900 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct.

Princessnesian, ridden by Don Pierce, came on in the final strides of the 1¼-mile Gold Cup to beat Llangollen Farm's Racing Room by a neck in 1:59.4-5 and take down first money of $102,100. Whitney and Rowan's Quicken Tree was third, another length back.

Princessnesian carried 117 pounds, three less than the high-weighted Gamely, and together they went off at 4-5. Racing Room was 17-1.

It was the first victory for Princessnesian over Gamely after finishing second to her in three stakes this year. Princessnesian also has won two stakes this year in which Gamely was not entered, and Gamely won a pair in which Princessnesian did not run.

Bold Hour and jockey Bill Boland repulsed Damascus in the stretch bid and won the 1¼-mile Haskell in 2:03. Mrs. Peter DuChin's Mr. Right charged along the rail to finish second to the field of eight, 1¼ lengths back of Bold Hour and a neck in front of Damascus.

Damascus packed top weight of 131 pounds while Bold Hour carried 116 and Mr. Right 114. Damascus, who finished third out Dr. Fager and Bold Hour in his previous bid to become the eight thoroughbred millionaire—the July 4 Suburban Handicap—picked up $11,000 and now has earned $954,416. Bold Hour won $72,150.

Stage Door Johnny, toting 129 pounds, including Hildoro Gus-tines, the most ever by a Dwyer winner, sped the 1¼ miles in 2:01.2-5 for a two-length victory over Robert J. Kelberg's Out of the Way, C.V. Whitney's Champion was third in the field of six 3-year-olds.

Cleveland's Luis Tiant, who had shut out Minnesota twice previously, lasted only six innings and settled for a 6-3 victory with relief help from Stan Williams. It was Tiant's sixth straight victory and gave him a 15-5 record.

The Indians ripped into Jim Merritt for three runs in the third on a two-run single by Jose Azcue and Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly.

The defending champion Red Sox made it three wins in a row and 11 in their last 12 games by rallying to top Oakland. Handcuffed on three hits over seven innings, John "Blue Moon" Odom, the Sox erupted for four runs in the eighth and turned the game around.

Cards Keep Margin by Beating L.A.

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's the pitcher's year. They've been saying it all along. And now Don Wilson comes along and makes another big point for the case—matching a couple of strikeout records.

But the opposition has some dandy points, too—like Hank Aaron, Billy Williams and Richie Allen.

Wilson tied the modern major league records of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game and eight in a row Sunday as Houston whipped Cincinnati 6-1 in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

And now, for the opposition, we give you:

—Aaron, who ended a week of frustration by belting his 500th homer—a three-run shot that carried Atlanta past San Francisco 4-2.

—Williams, who unloaded a tie-breaking grand slam—the fourth of his career—to give Chicago a 6-2 conquest of Pittsburgh.

—And Allen, who had a homer in each game and six RBIs as Philadelphia breezed past the New York Mets 5-3 and 9-2.

Rampaging St. Louis held on to its 9½ game lead by stopping Los Angeles 5-1, and the Astros took their opener with the Reds 5-4 in 10 innings in other National League activity.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed New York 6-4, Boston defeated Oakland 5-3, California whipped Detroit 7-3, Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-3, and Chicago swept a doubleheader from Washington, 7-2 and 6-5 in 10 innings.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter against Atlanta last summer, whistled a called third strike past Johnny Bench to end the game and equal the record set by Cleveland's Bob Feller exactly 30 years ago and matched by Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax in both 1959 and 1962.

"I had a good slider to go with my fast ball," said the 23-year-old right-hander, who picked up only his sixth victory in 17 decisions. "In fact, it was so hard it was like a curve at times."

Wilson said he was aiming for the record after the third inning, and when Bench "came to bat," I was saying to myself, "Please don't rain."

Rain skirted the field all afternoon, and there was a down-pour after the final out.

Don fanned the side in the first three innings, but issued a walk to Alex Johnson with one out in the first. The eight straight strikeouts tied the modern record set by Max Surkont of Milwaukee in 1953 and tied twice since.

The all-time record of nine was set in 1884 by Michael Welch of the New York National League club.

"I knew it was gone as soon as I hit it," said Aaron of the 400-foot blast over the left-center field fence that made him the eighth player in the majors to reach the 500 level.

"I'm glad I hit it off a guy like left-hander Mike McCormick, who won the Cy Young Award last year," cracked the 34-year-old slugger. "It might be a little tainted if it came off some third or fourth-line pitcher."

It ended a trying week for Hank, who hit his 498th and 499th homers seven days earlier, then just missed on four occasions during the week of reaching the lofty plateau.

The victory went to rookie Ron Reed, 9-4, who had a shut-out going until the eighth. Williams' four-run blow handed the Pirates their ninth straight loss. It came after singles by winning pitcher Joe Niekro and Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert's walk.

Allen delivered three runs with his 17th homer and a double in the opener with the Mets, then picked up three more RBIs with a two-run blast and a sacrifice fly in the nightcap. Johnny Briggs also had two homers for the Phils in the second game.

St. Louis' Larry Jaster, who has scored eight of his 30 career major league victories against Los Angeles, blanked the Dodgers on five hits before running into a last inning jam.

Jaster, 7-4, gave up a second inning single to Bob Bailey, but then retired 17 men in a row. However, Los Angeles loaded the bases with two out in the ninth and reliever Wayne Granger walked in a run before his replacement, Joe Hoerner, retired the last man.

The Cards combined doubles by Julian Javier and Curt Flood and Mike Shannon's sacrifice fly for a 3-0 lead in the first. Shannon hit his 12th homer in the fourth.

The Basenji breed of dog cannot bark.

Pitching — Don Wilson, Astros, equaled modern major league marks of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game and eight in a row as Houston beat Cincinnati in the second game of a doubleheader 6-1 after winning the opener 5-4 in 10 innings.

BATTING — Hank Aaron, Braves, became the eighth player in major league history to hit 500 home runs, connecting with a three-run shot that gave Atlanta a 4-2 victory over San Francisco.

Fords 1-2 in Watkins Glen Race

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — John Wyer's two Ford GT40 sports cars have taken first and second place in the Six Hours of Endurance for the World Championship of Manufacturers at Watkins Glen race track.

One turbine-powered Howmet experimental TX coupe prototype from the United States was third in Sunday's race.

The winning English entry, driven by Jackie Jekx and Lucien Blanchi, both of Belgium, covered 657.8 miles over the 2.3-mile track in the Endurance at an average speed of 109.60 miles per hour.

The win gained nine title points for Ford GT40 giving the Marque 40 net points for the championship, only two net title points behind the German Porsche with 42.

Mark Donohue stayed in top driver slot in the U.S. Road Racing Championship series when he won Saturday's 200-mile USRR event at the Glen, averaging 117.97 m.p.h. in his McLaren Chevy 427 Sunoco Special group 7 sports car.

Chuck Parsons of Pebble Beach, Calif., in a Bartz Chevrolet Lola Simoniz Special was second and George Eaton of Canada in a McLaren Mark 3 was third.

The second-place GT40 in Sunday's Manufacturers', driven by David Hobbs and Paul Hawkins, both of England, was only seven seconds behind the winners. Ray Heppenstall, the project engineer for the Howmet, and D.V.R. Richard Thompson, both of the United States, drove the third-place turbine.

Milwaukee Spectators Help O'Burn

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Dave Stockton can thank an unknown woman spectator and Donald O'Burn of Milwaukee for some unplanned help in his four-stroke victory over Sam Snead in the Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

The 28-year-old fifth-year pro from California hit the unidentified woman with his tee shot on the par-3, 240-yard third hole and plunked O'Burn in the head with a booming drive on the par 5, 550-yard 16th. Both times he salvaged pars.

"The woman was okay, but her arm swelled up to twice its size," said Stockton, who pocketed a $40,000 first-place check.

"My drive on 16 hit the man right on the head," Stockton said. "It must have knocked him cold because the ball came right back at me 40 yards. The doctor said he would be okay."

Right after Stockton hit the woman, he birdied four straight holes to go 14 under par for the tournament and make the nine-hole turn in four-under-par 32. He came home in 37, with three bogeys and two birds thrown in, to wind up with a 13-under-par total of 275, his best effort this year.

Stockton, who skipped last week's Buick Open to be with his wife, Cathy, who is expecting the couple's first child later this month, won the Cleveland

ALTHOUGH THEY HAVE SAME-SOUNDING NAMES and are often together at the finish lines on the NASCAR circuit, Lee Yarborough (top) isn't related to Lee Roy Yarborough. After finishing one-two in the Daytona 500, both returned to the Florida resort town to compete in the Firecracker 400.

Yarborough Wins '300' at Trenton

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Lee Roy Yarborough won the Northern 300-mile Grand National Auto race Sunday, crossing the finish line in his Ford Torino with an elapsed time of three hours, 22 minutes and 4 seconds. The stock car race at Trenton Open two weeks ago. Snead, who had a record seven-under-par, 65 in the second round, started the day six strokes behind Stockton. But the 56-year-old Slammer from White Sulphur Springs, Calif., birdied four holes on the front nine to make the turn at 32, four under par.

He birdied No. 10 and parred the last eight holes to finish nine under par with a 72-hole total of 279.

Both Dave Marr and Tom Weiskopf made belated bids to catch Stockton. But both men wound up at 281, six strokes off the pace.

Marr, the 1965 PGA champ, bogeyed the 13th and 15th to fold in the stretch. Weiskopf, second leading money winner on the tour, charged home with a three-under-par 69.

His final round seven-under-par 65 was her lowest score ever in an eight-year professional career. It was the first time she had

Perry Splits Pair With Magnolia

The winning streak of Perry's Truck Stop baseball team was halted Sunday when the locals dropped the first game of a double-header with Magnolia, 8-6, but won the nightcap 11-4.

In the opener Brint Odom, John Hendley and Wayne Lowe led the hitting with two safeties each. The losing pitcher was Buddy Jordan.

Brint Odom was credited with the nightcap win. Best hitters were Jim Jordan, Bill Freeman, Buddy Jordan, and Wayne Lowe.

Perry's record this season is nine victories against two defeats.

Her latest victory, worth $4,200, put her out front in the number of LPGA tournament titles this year.

Ter 71-70-65—206 was 10 under par for the 54 holes on the 6,635-yard Raymond Memorial course and three strokes better than defending champion Kathy Whitworth, who finished with a 67-71-71—209.

Carol Mann, the blonde giant among lady professional golfers, doesn't have that blah feeling anymore.

The 6-foot-3 swinger from Towson, Md., chalked up these firsts Sunday by winning the $28,000 Pabst Classic Golf Tournament.

British Open Is Captured by Player

By TOM REEDY
CARNOSTIE, Scotland (AP) — The oldtimers gathered around last week to watch Gary Player of South Africa win his second British Open Golf championship and the upshot of that was a move for a brand new kind of title play in golf.

It matters little who started the thought but it started to grow after Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., won the world senior crown from Britain's Max Faulkner.

That was the end of a 14-year-old championship sponsored by Teacher's Whiskey which decided to drop it henceforth.

Then the talk grew of substituting a senior tournament of eight men a side, each a golf player who wrote his name in many record books. It would be rather like a Ryder cup battle for men over 50 or even 60.

Dal Rees, the Bantam Welshman who has captained two British Ryder Cup teams, commented:

"I have already taken it up in some circles and it is being received with considerable enthusiasm."

Said Henry Cotton, winner of the 1937 open at Carnoustie and one of the alltime greats:

"I'd like to play in it. But I would hope to be matched with somebody around my own age in the sixties, not against somebody pretty bumptious in his early fifties."

Said Byron Nelson, the 56-year-old Houston, Tex. champion of yesteryear:

"It's a very good idea but we would need to have the very best of the seniors. It could be quite up but the question is: Who would pick them? And would they play? Would Hogan or myself, for instance, want to play?"

Nelson neglected to say that in spite of a bad back he wandered around the Old Course at St. Andrews last week in a 71.

The operative question, of

Grid Pros Sign Up for New Season

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of course, is if anybody wants to spend the kind of money such an emotional return to the past would be worth.

It wasn't the oldtimers who got the gate in at Carnoustie last week when Player shot his 289, one over par, for a signal triumph. It was Jack Nicklaus and Bob Charles at 291 and Bill Casper at 292 and other comparative youngsters who dredge the golf world for gold nuggets.

The Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, arbiters of the game, said in a rather embarrassed way that the galleries of dedicated Scots poured $72,000 through the turnstiles. The total for the players was $48,000.

bargaining-table goal line stands—one by the club owners and one by the players—involving a pension dispute are ended. The National Football League is ready for football again.

The 16 club owners agreed Sunday night to pay almost $3 million in 1968 and 1969 for pension benefits.

It was the last of 21 points to be settled in negotiations between the owners and the NFL Players Association, which began last March 19.

A deadlock on the pension issue threatened to disrupt pre-season training which begins this week, upset the exhibition season and cancel the College All-Star Game.

Detroit Lion guard John Gordy, president of the NFL Players Association, said under the new pension plan a 10-year veteran will receive $1,600 a month at the age of 65.

This compares with $775 monthly under the old agreement and with $1,132 a month for 10-year veterans under the current American Football League pension plan.

Benefits for five and 15-year veterans under the new NFL plan, which Gordy said was retroactive to 1959, were not available.

After a meeting of about 4½ hours at a midtown hotel, the agreement was announced at a news conference by Gordy and NFL President Arthur Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns.

A joint statement, read by Modell, said:

"Under this agreement, the league club owners will contribute a total of $3 million for the years 1968 and 1969 for pension benefits, administrative costs and the cost of a joint study to be conducted in anticipation of the merger of the NFL and AFL pension plans by 1970."

"It is estimated that administrative costs will amount to $144,000 and that the joint study will cost approximately $40,000. No commitment was made by the owners, either expressly or impliedly, regarding pension contributions beyond 1968 and 1969."

"In a departure from past practice in this area, the parties agreed that in view of the owners' guarantee as to the amount of the contribution, any reference to the source of revenue shall be dropped and the owners shall have exclusive control over determining how best to meet the guarantee."

It also was agreed to form a joint committee to administer the plan and arrange for a pension study to be used in the negotiations following the merger. Committee members will be named later.

Gordy expressed pride "that we are professional athletes can settle our differences across the bargaining table as gentlemen."

"We wanted to be heard and we wanted voice but never, never wanted to use our own strength unjustly."

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of professional football, said:

"I'm most pleased it has been settled and at a time when it does not effect the progress of the training season."

Arkansas Outdoors

By GEORGE PURVIS, Chief Information - Education Division
WASHINGTON, D.C., July 8 — There will be no special teal season this September for Arkansas hunters, according to the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. The experimental teal season had run for the past three years on a permit basis to determine if the teal could be managed on a species basis.

The prime reason for ending the special hunt in the Mississippi Flyway was because of hunter inability to identify the legal teal species from waterfowl not in season, asserted the director of the bureau. He said that observations were made of teal hunters and about 47 per cent of those watched shot at ducks not in season. Another reason for halting the special hunt was that the breeding population of teal is down 40 per cent since the special season was first held, and that the habitat is also in poor condition. An unexpected high kill of the green-wing teal was a final factor in discontinuing the special hunt.

The bureau stated that it will make every effort to find a means of holding the teal seasons when possible in future years. Hugh A. Haekler, director of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, said he hoped the special teal season could be established in the future since the teal are not found in great number in Arkansas during the regular waterfowl season. He added that an early season could provide timely additional hunting opportunity for waterfowlers.

LITTLE ROCK, July 9 — Dove season will open on Sept. 1 this year, and the first period will run through Oct. 5. The second period will begin Dec. 18 and continue through Jan. 11. Shooting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, with a daily bag limit of 12 and a possession limit of 24 after opening day. The dove season will be the same as last year's hunt.

The Commission has also selected seasons for gallinules, woodcock, rails, and Wilson's snipe from framework set down by the U. S. Department of the Interior. Woodcock may be hunted from Dec. 12 through Feb. 14. A daily bag limit of five and possession limit of 10 has study is to determine principal foods of coyotes and wild dogs, to determine the range of coyotes, and the reproductive biology of the coyote. Information on foods will come from analysis of stomach contents of coyotes and wild dogs captured by trappers. Where dens are located, studies of food remains at the den site and postnatal development of the young may be studied by direct observation.

Gene Rush, Game Division chief, said the results of the study will be used in game management practices as well as being instrumental in policies regarding free-running dogs in game cover.

sex twins. The release brings the total bear stocking to nearly 300 since the program was begun. The bear are obtained free from the Manitoba province in Canada, and some have been obtained from Minnesota.

Persons living in the Piney Creek area should not attempt to feed or domesticate the bear since the woods have an abundance of natural foods at this time. Game biologists urge persons not to molest the bear but to give them wide berth. The animals are not vicious but can be when crowded or cut off from their food supply or young.

The Commission visions a limited bear hunting season as a result of the stocking program.

COYOTE, WILD DOG STUDY INITIATED

FAYETTEVILLE — Coyotes and feral dogs will be the principals in a three-year joint study to be made by the University of Arkansas in cooperation with the Game and Fish Commission. The research project will investigate the range, food habits, and reproduction of coyotes and feral or wild dogs in the state, and the study will be carried out under the supervision of Commission predator animal trappers and students and instructors of the University's Department of Zoology.

Miniature Guy Public Links Champ

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — You get the feeling looking at the new National Public Links champion as he stands on the first tee that he just might be a good candidate for the first flight of the U. S. Shoe Clerks Association's 43rd annual tourney.

Gene Towry weighs only 130 pounds. He stands only five-feet, seven-inches. He wears glasses. He's too friendly.

But that's before the swing. It's fluid and powerful. The ball jumps off the clubhead and flies arrow straight and long. And he puts with the deft touch of a pool hustler, which he isn't.

Towry, 39, of the Dallas suburb of Richardson is an engineer. He had played only nine holes of golf in three years before he decided to enter the United States Public Links Championship at demanding Tenison East.

He had a final round 72 Saturday for a 12-over-par 292 on the par 70 course. If that sounds high, try playing Tenison East sometime. It's where U. S. Open champ Lee Trevino learned to keep the ball straight or else.

It would be interesting to see what the professionals would do on the 6,578-yard course. Over 400 rounds were hurled at the course during the 72-hole tournament by the nation's best municipal players. There was one par round and a one-under-par 69.

For Towry, it was a victory he had wanted a long time. In 1957, he reached the finals of the National Public Links Tournament at Hershey, Pa., only to be knocked down 6 and 5 by Don Essig.

GREASED-POLE climbing calls for inventiveness if you're to succeed. This fellow uses a shirt to wipe the pole and a spread-legged technique to boost himself upward.

BORN TO CLIMB, boys can't resist a greased-pole contest. This one at the annual Everglades Jamboree in Monroe Station, Fla., offers prizes of $5 and $10 to anyone who can retrieve paper plates nailed to top of pole. Since anything goes, a boosting hand is considered legal.

THE WELL CHILD

Character of Stool Sign of Constipation

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Is your child really constipated or are you merely worrying about an irregularity of bowel movements that is well within the normal range? All doctors now agree that the character of a child's stool is a more reliable indication of constipation than the interval between stools. The constipated stool is hard, dry and difficult to pass.

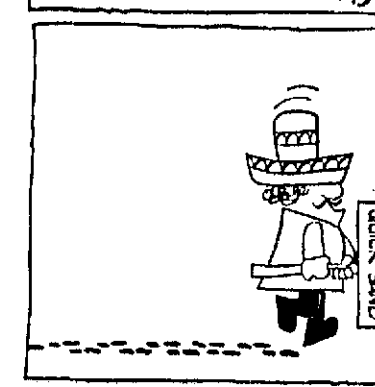

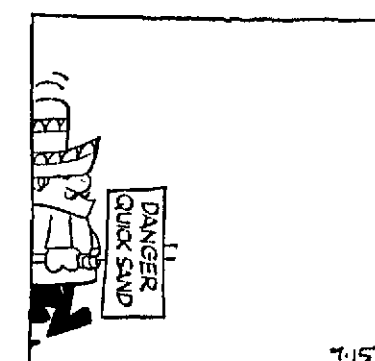

Laxatives may irritate the rectum and cause spasms that result in constipation. Other causes include Hirschsprung's disease (abnormal dilation of the colon), vitamin D deficiency and anemia. In infants of one or two years, constipation may be psychologic. Following a hard, painful movement, the child holds back his feces for fear of a return of the pain, but this only aggravates his problem. When this happens, your doctor should examine the child to determine whether he has a small painful crack or fissure at the outlet of his bowel.

Another type of psychologic constipation occurs in some infants when the mother tries too diligently to toilet-train him. A more relaxed attitude is needed and will usually correct the trouble. In babies, constipation can usually be relieved by increasing the amount of sugar in the formula. In the child who is eating solid food, constipation can almost always be cured by giving him oatmeal or a dry cereal with finely powdered bran once a day and offering him fruit instead of candy or cookies between meals.

Mineral oil is not recommended for persons of any age. In infants it has the added disadvantage that if he chokes on it, he may inhale some of the oil and develop Oswald: "Some bridge players like to fight against windmills. Because there is a bonus for making a game, they bid game on hands that should play at a low and safe part score."

Jim: "Some bridge writers encourage some of these unsound game bids. Take a look at the North hand as an example. North has eight points and 4-3-3-3 distribution. Eight plus 18 is 26. If South has a full 18 points for his no-trump opening the hand should play in three no-trump, if he has 16 or 17 it shouldn't but books recommend a raise with this North hand."

Oswald: "Not our books. We don't want to be in two no-trump if our partner has only 16. We are too likely to go down. We aren't even too happy about getting to game if he has 18. Twenty-six points don't always produce a game and North has no 10 spot and this very poor 4-3-3-3 distribution."

Jim: "When the hand was played South had some chance to make his three no-trump. A heart was opened and the defense collected four quick heart tricks and then shifted to a club."

Oswald: "South won the club and went after spades. When the jack dropped he had four spade tricks. That meant all he needed was a diamond finesse but the diamond finesse failed, as did the play for game and rubber."

Jim: "We might add that we do recommend action opposite partner's opening no-trump with eight high card points plus extra values, such as a couple of 10 spots or a five-card suit. But with a really flat hand, such as North did hold, the best procedure is to stop at one and try for the small, sure profit."

Russian-U.S. Air Service Inaugurated

By TOM DEL VECCHIO
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — At 4:30 p.m. EDT today, an Elyushin 62 jet passenger plane is scheduled to land at Kennedy International Airport, marking the end of the first direct flight from Moscow to New York and the beginning of regular air service between the two world capitals.

After more than seven years of negotiations, interrupted by such Cold War flareups as the building of the Berlin Wall, the United States and the Soviet Union reached agreement earlier this year on a weekly plane service.

Under the agreement, the government-owned Soviet Airline, Aeroflot—which calls itself the "world's biggest and busiest airline"—will fly from Moscow to New York, with a brief stopover in Montreal, on Mondays.

Pan American World Airways—which calls itself the "world's most experienced airline"—will schedule a flight from New York Monday evening and, flying via Copenhagen, will arrive in Moscow on Tuesday, Moscow time, returning the same day.

The four-engine IL 62, which will have a seating capacity of 20 first and 102 economy class passengers, will have a crew of 11 for its inaugural flight. All speak English. The five stewardesses will wear dark blue uniforms.

The Pan-Am Boeing 707-300 jet, scheduled to depart at 8:15 p.m. EDT today, has a capacity of 16 first and 127 economy class passengers. It will have a crew of 10, including six stewardesses in light blue uniforms. Some will speak Russian. The captain for the inaugural flight is scheduled to be a pilot who has been with the airline since 1939.

The Moscow to New York flight via Aeroflot is scheduled to take 12 hours and 40 minutes, with the return trip estimated at 11 hours and 30 minutes. Pan Am will take 11 hours and 45 minutes to fly from Moscow to New York and 10 hours and 35 minutes for the reverse trip.

Rare on both airlines will be the same. A first-class ticket will cost $384 one way and $1,110 round trip.

Driver Arrested on Hitting Motel

Hope Police department answered a call at 3:45 a.m. Saturday to Tarpley Motel where a car driven by William Walker of Hope had failed to make the "S" curve at Third and Shover, hit the gas pumps at Patterson's service station, crossed Highway 67 and hit the flower bed and sign at Town & Country restaurant and ended up at the motel.

Walker was charged with driving while intoxicated. City policemen Jesse Brown investigated.

The Careful Scots: They Hanged a Man for Golf Ball Theft

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: The leading cause of skin cancer is overexposure to the sun over a period of years, says the American Cancer Society. Too much sunbathing is also a menace to feminine beauty because it ages the skin.

Perhaps we need exercise breaks instead of coffee breaks at the office. In France it has been found that the number of migraine headaches and cases of nervous depression among a group of factory and office workers were cut in half by a program of rhythmic exercises done to music.

Our forebears didn't believe in coddling criminals. In Scotland during the 17th century a parricide was hanged for stealing a golf ball. That does seem a bit drastic, but to this day one of the world's safest places for golf is Scotland.

The ability to buy any food you want doesn't necessarily mean you'll be well-fed. A survey by the U.S. Department of Agriculture found that 10 per cent of the families with defi-

Clifford Briefed by U.S. Commanders in Vietnam Capital

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources said today that some enemy units believed poised for an attack on the capital have pulled back and "there is no immediate major threat to Saigon."

"The enemy has backed off," said one highly placed U.S. official. "They don't have the capability to attack except in a very small way. There isn't any forward movement at all."

"Some elements of the major units have physically pulled back. It is not a general withdrawal. But if you are going to mount a major attack you don't pull back anybody."

Although he said there was no immediate threat, the source qualified this by noting that the situation could change rapidly. The new U.S. assessment contradicted South Vietnamese intelligence reports of a continuing enemy buildup along the Cambodian border and in Hau Nghia Province west of Saigon, where the North Vietnamese 9th Division has its headquarters.

ASSOCIATED PRESS
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Clark Clifford got a briefing from top U.S. commanders today on the latest enemy threats to Saigon and the northern provinces as the capital city awaited a new offensive.

South Vietnamese police went on full alert after an intelligence report indicated possible attacks and terrorist activities beginning at noon. But the noon hour passed without incident, and U.S. officials indicated the intelligence information came from a low-level source.

The lull in the ground war continued elsewhere also. Clifford, who arrived Sunday for his first visit since succeeding Robert S. McNamara, conferred with leaders of the U.S. military and political missions deep inside the sprawling Pentagon East U.S. military compound at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base.

On his arrival, Clifford said the United States would speed up deliveries of modern M16 rifles to South Vietnamese forces "even at the expense of our own."

Bennett Hits Prison Evils in Campaign

Political rallies over the weekend attracted all the candidates for governor except one, but the events failed to spark any fiery speeches as the primary campaign heads into its final weeks.

Probably the strongest speech was delivered at Star City by Bruce Bennett, one of six persons seeking the Democratic nomination.

Bennett attacked the state prison system and former Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton. He said the prisons had been a "public disgrace" since Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller took office 18 months ago. He said Murton had brought more disgrace to the state than any person since Arkansas joined the union in 1836.

In reiterating his opposition to proposed gun control legislation, Bennett said, "I'd go out and buy two more guns" with a prison system like you've got over there at Cummins."

The other Democratic gubernatorial candidates making appearances over the state were Marion Crank of Foreman, Mrs. Virginia Johnson of Conway, Ted Boswell of Bryant, Clyde Byrd of Little Rock and Frank Whitbeck of Little Rock. Rockefeller stayed at his farm visiting with his son, who recently returned from Europe. Rockefeller's Republican opponent, Sidney Roberts of Little Rock, made an appearance at the Clinton rally.

Crank said at Star City the state's finances were in "about as big a mess as they've ever been in the history of the state." He said Rockefeller's administration was spending $12 million a year more than current revenues.

At Clarksville, Crank said the voters must realize that they must do the work if Arkansas is to progress.

"There's not any knight on a white shining horse going to come in here and do it for us," Crank said. "That's obvious now."

Boswell, also speaking at Clarksville, said the other Democratic candidates "talk out of both sides of their mouths" when they promise higher wages, better schools and improvement in other services while declaring that they will oppose any tax increase.

At Clinton, Whitbeck said that he was opposed to forced consolidation of schools and that he would do his best to bring every Arkansas school up to See BENNETT HITS (on page two)

7 Killed in Road Crashes in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Accidents on Arkansas' highways during the 54-hour weekend period killed seven persons, including three in a two-car mishap Sunday.

State Police said a head-on collision on U.S. 65 about 12 south of Little Rock killed Willey Stocker, 31, of Star City; Kathleen Lee, 48, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and her daughter, Nancy Elizabeth Lee, 17.

Ernestine Porter of Dumas was killed and seven other persons were injured in a two-car smashup Sunday night on Arkansas 11 about 10 miles south of Stuttgart.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Amos James of Dumas. Other passengers in the car were Bobbie Lee Bolter; Reginald Porter, 7; Cynthia Porter, 1; Linda Porter, 8, and Johnny Lee Brown, 21, all of Dumas.

They all were hospitalized with apparently serious injuries. The driver of the other car, Jesse Lee Tullios, 39, of Pine Bluff, suffered a fractured jaw and broken arm.

Other victims in accidents were identified as Walter Williams, 55, of Harrison; Noah Columbus McChristian, 28, of Lincoln, and Billy Wilkins, about 11, of Smackover.

Officers said Stocker and the two Missouri residents were killed when Stocker attempted to pass several vehicles. Authorities said his vehicle collided with one driven by Charles Lee, 47, also of Cape Girardeau. Lee was in critical condition at a Little Rock hospital.

Williams was killed Saturday night after his car struck a bridge railing on U.S. 62 about 2 miles east of Alpena. Officers said Williams was thrown from his car and that a car driven by Orvil Poyner, 27, also of Harrison came to rest on his body.

The Smackover youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Anderson, was killed Saturday when his motorcycle collided with a car on Arkansas 7 at Smackover.

McChristian was struck Friday night by a vehicle driven by Charles Foster, 17, of Farmington while crossing U.S. 62 about 2½ miles west of Lincoln. He was dead on arrival at a Fayetteville hospital.

Events This Week to Determine Whether Congress Adjourns

WASHINGTON (AP) — What happens this week could be the determining factor in whether Congress can adjourn before the start of the Republican National Convention early next month.

Leaders have scheduled a full agenda, including Saturday meetings, in what shapes up as the busiest week of the session in order to clear away such important legislation as gun control bills and $115 billion in appropriations.

It would take a supreme, and unexpected, effort to finish work in time to meet the Aug. 3 adjournment target set by both House and Senate leaders.

This "will be the crucial week" in determining whether the Senate can be ready for pre-convention adjournment, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said.

House Majority Leader Carl Albert, D-Okla., also was hesitant to say that the Aug. 3 deadline will be met. "I will endeavor to the best of my ability to do it," he said.

Mostly minor business was before the House today. The Senate had scheduled consideration of higher-education and vocational education bills, as well as House-passed proposals providing $13.6 billion for several independent agencies.

Here's the House schedule for the rest of the week:

Tuesday and Wednesday—Foreign aid authorization bill. A major floor fight is expected over the measure, already sharply cut by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Gun control bills; higher education and vocational education proposals and several other

HELEN ROSE GENNINGS

Miss Ouachita Baptist University, Helen Rose Gennings, won top honors in the Miss Arkansas contest Saturday night at Hot Springs. Last year Sharon Ann Evans was the first contestant entered by Ouachita and was chosen Miss Arkansas 1967. Both are statuesque beauties and both admit to having freckles.

Miss Gennings has attended Ouachita Baptist University for two years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Gennings of Batesville, she is 19 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, has light brown hair, blue eyes, and has a fair complexion. Miss Gennings did a vocal — "I Know a Place" and "What Now My Love" in the talent competition.

First runner-up was Miss University of Arkansas, Nan Elizabeth Castleberry. Second runner-up was Miss Arkansas State University, Jo Ella Todd.

Miss Congeniality chosen by all the girls was Sue Ellen Chenault, Miss Benton.

Batesville Girl Miss Arkansas

By RUTH ANN VAUGHAN

Associated Press Writer
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—

"I had given up all hope of winning," said Helen Rose Gennings, the lanky brunette from Batesville who captured the Miss Arkansas crown Saturday night.

When Helen failed to place in the preliminary rounds, she said she felt certain she would lose, and all the pressures of the pageant lifted.

"I guess I loosened up," she said.

The 5-foot 10-inch contestant representing Ouachita Baptist University wowed the audience with a vocal medley of "I Know a Place" and "What Now My Love." She wore a mini-skirted shift with multicolored sequins.

"The dress was out of character," said Helen, who calls herself the conservative, domestic type.

She says she may swap the shift for another costume and may rework her talent presentation prior to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

"This is more of an honor, it's a job," she said of her role as Miss Arkansas.

Last summer she tagged grade-A chickens in a Batesville processing plant, and the previous summer she was a secretary for the Batesville Chamber of Commerce. She has also worked part-time in the library at OBU.

The $1,800 in scholarships she won with the Miss Arkansas title will make it possible for her to think more seriously about graduate school, she said. Helen is now a sophomore, music education major.

10% Tax Hike Will Take Effect Today

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government started taking a bigger tax bite out of Americans' paychecks today as the 10 per cent income surtax recommended by President Johnson to help pay for the Vietnam war finally went into effect.

All paychecks received from today on must reflect the surcharge through an increased deduction for federal income taxes.

The 10 per cent increase is on the federal tax Americans already have been paying, not on their total wages.

If $20 had been withheld from each weekly paycheck for federal taxes, for example, $22 will be withheld beginning today.

All paychecks must account for the increased withholding to cover the surcharge even if the money was earned before this week. Only persons in the two lowest income tax brackets are exempt.

President Johnson originally submitted the surcharge to Congress last Aug. 3 and asked for an Oct. 1 effective date for individuals.

When Congress failed to act last year, Johnson changed the effective date for individuals to last April 1, a date approved by Congress in the measure finally passed in June.

Because of this retroactive feature, the tax withheld from paychecks won't cover all the money individuals will owe the government by the end of December.

The extra 3½ months must be paid when Federal income tax returns are filed by next April 15.

This will mean smaller and fewer refunds next year and larger payments of additional tax.

For calendar 1968 as a whole, the surcharge will represent an over-all increase in taxes of 7.5 per cent since it will be paid for only nine months of the year.

The surcharge is scheduled to expire next June 30 but at least one administration official, Under secretary of Commerce Howard J. Samuels, already has urged its extension to help pay the nation's social legislation costs.

That decision will be up to the administration elected in November, and to the new Congress.

The tax is intended to help meet the cost of the Vietnam War—now running more than $28 billion a year; to keep President Johnson's Great Society programs rolling; to stem inflation, and to reduce a budget deficit which in the last fiscal year rose to about $25 billion—fourth largest in history.

Coupled with the surcharge package is a congressional mandate to the administration to cut spending by $6 billion.

In addition to the surcharge on individuals and corporations, the new law also speeds up collections of corporate income taxes and extends the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone service and the 7 per cent manufacturers excise on automobiles.

The corporate tax is retroactive to Jan. 1.

1st Baptist Prospered in Century

As First Baptist Church prepares to celebrate its centennial with a three-day program July 26, 27, and 28, friends and visitors will have an opportunity to inspect an expanded facility of land, buildings and equipment that will push an appraised replacement value to near one million dollars.

The church, which had its genesis 100 years ago in a one-room frame building three miles west of Hope, today occupies three air-conditioned buildings on South Main, another on South Walnut, and two modern brick homes for its pastor and music educational director.

Construction of all of the present buildings was completed in 1967.

2 Die in Fire; Arson Suspected

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Two blazes killed one fireman and routed hundreds of persons Sunday.

Fire Director John P. Caulfield said both fires were "definitely suspicious."

One fire raced through half a dozen vacant tenements in Newark's predominantly Negro Central Ward, the scene exactly a year ago of rioting that took 26 lives.

The blaze began at 2:30 a.m. and sent hundreds of residents from threatened tenements across the street fleeing in night clothes and underwear.

The fire took the life of fireman Edward Dennis, a 41-year-old father of two. Authorities said he died of exhaustion.

A short time later, a three-alarm blaze broke out in a vacant four-story factory on Mulberry Street in downtown Newark.

"It's the free sound group, Dad. They play only sour notes!"

J. D. Scott Is Appointed to G. & F.

Governor Winthrop Rockefeller today announced that he has appointed Joe D. Scott, 55, of Nashville to a seven-year term which began July 1, 1968, on the Game and Fish Commission. Scott replaces Neal "Sox" Johnson, of Nashville, whose term has expired.

Born in Prescott, Arkansas, Scott attended Texarkana public school. Upon graduation from high school, he served two years in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Scott entered the lumber manufacturing business in 1935 and is presently self-employed being owner of the J. D. Scott Lumber Company in Nashville. Scott is a Master Mason of the Pleasant Valley Lodge No. 30 in Nashville, a 32° Mason in the Little Rock Consistory, and a Shriner of the Scimitar Temple in Little Rock.

French Filly Cleans Up in Internat'l

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — They said Roquepine was lame, that the queen of the world trotters from France was a doubtful hazard in her attempt to win the $100,000 Roosevelt International Trot for the second straight year.

What a laugh. If the 7-year-old mare had any trouble with her left front leg it wasn't evident as she won the 1968 renewal of the global spectacular in impressive fashion Saturday night.

Driven by Jean-Rene Gougéon, Roquepine trotted on the outside of Sweden's Kentucky Fiber, a length or so behind in second place, until the last 100 yards. Then she drew out with authority under mere hand-urging to win by a length.

Now that she has demonstrated her soundness, owner Henri Evéscue of France, is hopeful that his mare will be more fortunate in the $40,000 Challenge Cup at Roosevelt Raceway Friday night before returning to France.

Roquepine won the Challenge Cup last year, but was disqualified and placed sixth in interference.

Levesque would like to have Roquepine become the world's No. 1 money-winning trotter. To date she has earned $821,505. The retired Su Mac Lad of the United States heads the all-time trotters list with $885,095.

Towards this end Levesque said he planned to return for the 1969 International in which he hopes to meet Nevele Pride of the United States, currently a 3-year-old but already hailed as the best trotter anywhere.

Roquepine's opponents in the Challenge Cup on Friday will not be announced until Monday or Tuesday. They may include Carlisle of the United States, sixth in the International, Real Speed, Flamboyant, Grandpa Jim and Earl Laird.

El Paso in 6 Straight Beating L.R.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso sent 11 players to bat against Arkansas in the fourth inning here Sunday night, netted six runs, and pushed their win streak to six games with a 10-6 victory over the Travelers.

The triumph gave the Sun Kings a sweep of the three-game series with the Travs.

Jarvis Tatum's bases loaded double was the big blow in the fourth inning. Tatum also had two other hits during the game.

Joe Overton, who needed relief help in the sixth, was the winner. Harry Parker, who was knocked out of the box in the fourth, was the loser.

Dennis Aust came on with two out in the ninth to preserve Albuquerque's 4-3 victory over Memphis. The Blues had rallied for two runs in the ninth but Aust retired Curtis Brown on a fly ball to end the threat.

Amarillo defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 7-5 and Shreveport edged San Antonio 5-4 in other Texas League action. The Braves' victory moved them to within 1/2 game of the Travs in the Eastern Division.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A fully grown male baboon, to have been used for kidney transplant research, gave doctors at Karl Bremer Hospital a vigorous chase when it escaped as it was about to be operated on.

A Back Yard Nut?

By TOMMY THOMAS
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Most people think Dick Butkus is probably a nut when they see him running in a field in back of his house when the temperature hits the 90s in Chicago.

Butkus is the star line-backer and defensive captain of the NFL Bears and he has this theory about preseason training: "I would rather be embarrassed out there than on the football field in summer camp."

The 6-3, 25-year-old former top draft choice and All-American from the University of Illinois, has been preparing for the Bears' training camp at Rensselaer, Ind. Like the Donny Andersons, Merlin Olsens and Sonny Jurgensens, Butkus must report in near-perfect physical condition.

Matthews to Be Broyles' Assistant

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Wilson Matthews, a member of the Arkansas football coaching staff for the past 10 years, has been named to the new position of administrative assistant in football at the university, it was announced Saturday.

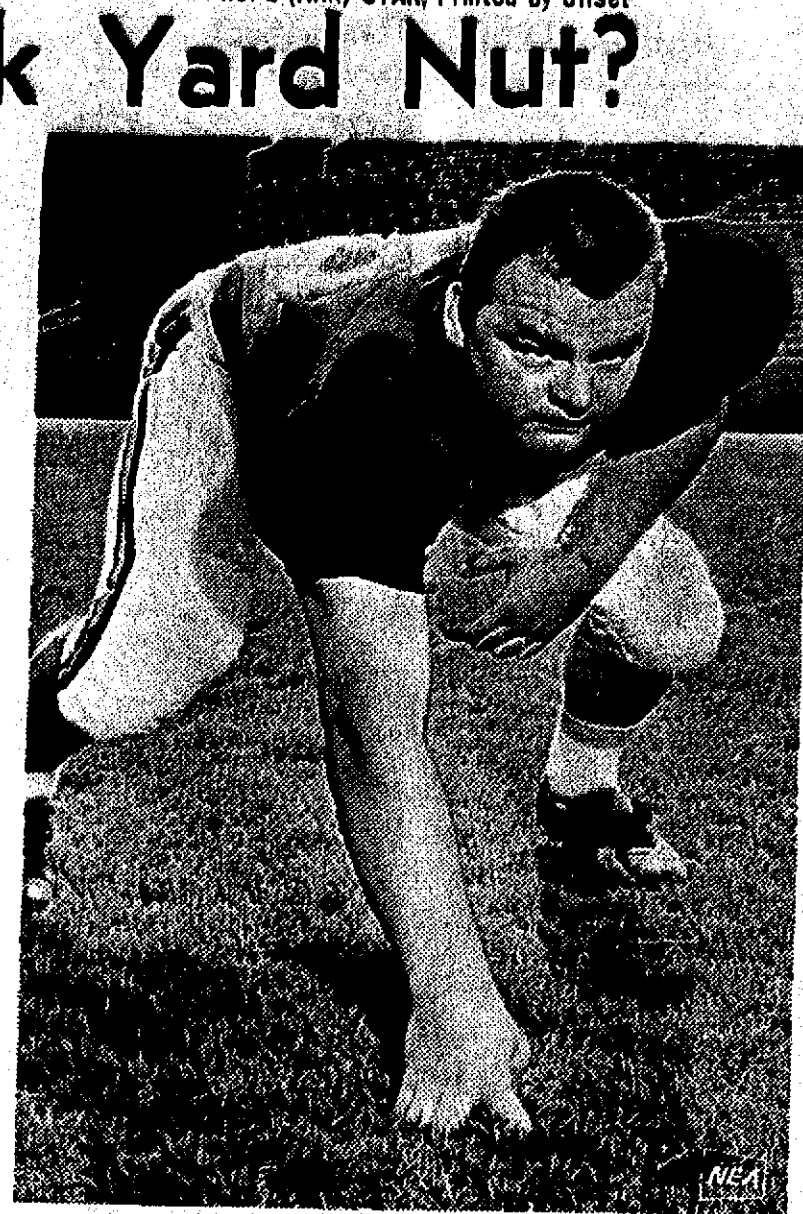

Coach Frank Broyles said Matthews also will head the freshman football program. "We just couldn't afford to lose his coaching talents completely," Broyles said.

"I feel that this new position will greatly improve the effectiveness of our football program," Broyles said. "Wilson is the most knowledgeable man in the state when it comes to coaching contacts."

"As head of our freshman staff, he'll give us great continuity — from our high school recruiting program in Arkansas right through the freshman season," Broyles said.

"We've faced a problem every year in delegating these important assignments to new members of our varsity staff," Broyles said. "Now, one man can concentrate on most of these activities, while the varsity staff has more time for football coaching."

Matthews has served on the Razorbacks' defensive staff since joining Broyles in 1958.

Dick Butkus

"We just may roll over everybody"

even though he has no doubts about returning to his position on the team.

"I do a lot of running to loosen up," he says, "and work on agility drills, running backwards and sideways. I work out with John Johnson of the Bears and Marty Schottenheimer of the Buffalo Bills, who lives in my neighborhood. We also run 300 yards at half-speed three times, then come in and lift weights awhile."

"My normal playing weight is about 245, which I reported last year. Well, I ran out of steam because I was ready too early. I had started training early in June. This summer, I only ran three times a week starting in June. Since I've waited till later to start working hard, my weight is about 251. By the time our first game gets here, I hope to go between 240 and 245."

Butkus anticipates a successful campaign by the Bears and cites several reasons for his optimism. "Jim Dooley (the new head coach) is installing a new offense with more emphasis on passing," he says, "and we've got some good draft choices. Our first game is at home and we don't catch the Packers and Rams till later in the season. Our defense should be at least as good as last season and everyone's attitude is optimistic. If we can win the first three games, we just may roll over everybody."

Butkus says physical conditioning is primarily to ease mental anxiety.

"If you're in good shape," he says, "you don't have to worry 'Will I make it through this drill?' You can concentrate on doing your job and with less chance of injuries."

Even though Butkus signed a huge bonus as the Bears' No. 1 draft choice four years ago, he says he honestly didn't know if he would make it.

"I really didn't think I would make it," he says. "Although I've established myself now, I still feel I have to win my position, no matter who's out there. And I want to improve and be the best. Summer camp is no time to sit back and say I've got the job won."

Graham and his staff examined their plays, their personnel, the practice sessions, the summer camp. The coaches scrutinized game films and, methodically over a period of months, graded each player on every play he made during the season. Did he make the tackle? Did he open the hole? Did he run the right pattern?

"So we go to camp without guesswork," said Graham. "If a fellow misses a play in practice, it is likely he'll miss it in a game, too. This year I plan to be very, very strict with my men as football players. I'm going to handle them like I would members of my household. If they don't empty the garbage can correctly, take them by the ear and have them do it over and over until they do it right."

"We're going to concentrate on 12 to 15 plays," he said. "That's all you really use in a game anyway."

Graham was a great quarterback for the Cleveland Browns under coach Paul Brown. He played 10 years and for 10 division champions. Understandably, much of his coaching techniques are carry-overs from the Brown system.

Prior to each season, Brown laboriously prepared a three-

Summer Camp 'Began' After Last '67 Game

By IRA BERKOW

WASHINGTON, D.C.—(NEA)—The glistening drops of sweat that meander down a forehead rivulet and plunk into the eye of a pro football player in summer camp are launched in winter.

For Coach Otto Graham's Washington Redskins, preparation for summer camp was begun precisely in the dusk of Sunday, Dec. 17, 1967, after a disappointing loss to the New Orleans Saints, a neophyte expansion club.

Going into the game the Redskins, with a 5-5-3 record, had expected to become the first Washington team since 1955 to have a winning record. In 1966, Graham's first as a pro coach, he directed the Redskins to a 500 season.

So 1967 meant a backslide to Graham. What was even more irritating about the season was that 11 consecutive games went into the final two minutes before the outcome was decided. "And," said Graham, "the ball bounced the wrong way at the wrong time in too many of those situations."

So how does a coach dizzy with two-minute vertigo prepare for summer camp?

"At the minute the final game of the previous season ends," said Graham. "The fellows played terrible football against the Saints. Right then, the coaches and I began an appraisal of every aspect of our operation. For eight hours a day, five days a week from then until summer camp, we analyzed the team under a microscope."

Graham and his staff examined their plays, their personnel, the practice sessions, the summer camp. The coaches scrutinized game films and, methodically over a period of months, graded each player on every play he made during the season.

"Besides, I'm a defensive captain and can't be slacking off. That wouldn't help the team's morale."

As for the threatened strike by the NFL Players Assn., Butkus wasn't out to break George Halas or any other owner but he thinks the time had come to start improving players' benefits.

As he said, Butkus is not out to break George Halas... just Bart Starr and Roman Gabriel.

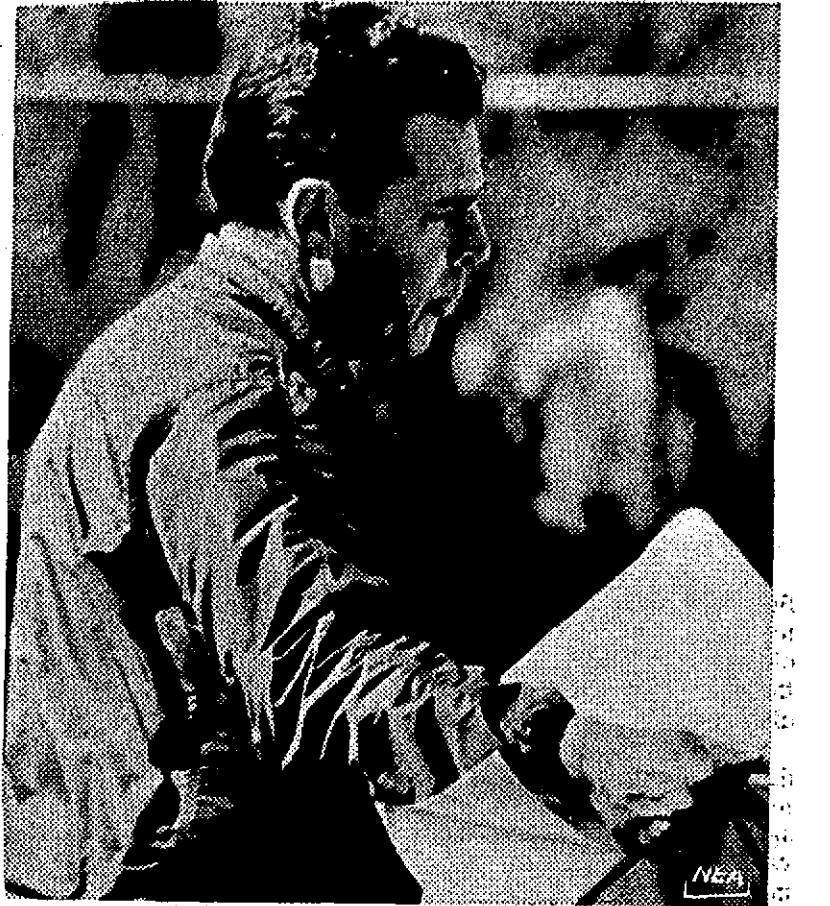

Monday, July 15, 1968
hour lecture to his players for the first day of summer camp. Graham's lecture is little more than one hour, but what is expected of the players, physically, mentally and morally, is similar.

Part of Brown's manuscript would read: "We don't want any butchers on this team. No T-shirts in the dining hall. Don't eat with your elbows on the table and eat quietly. . . . We intend to have good people because that's the kind that win the big ones. If you're a drinker or a chaser you'll weaken the team and we don't want you. . . . Watch your dress, language and the company you keep."

Graham, too, demands that his players be "good Christians. I don't mean that they should get up on a soap box preaching. But that they should lead clean lives during the season."

Once they get to camp, Graham does not envision any recalcitrant behavior by his players after the NFL strike trouble. "The strike stuff won't affect the team," he said. "Anyone who tries to give me problems, from the highest paid to the lowest, won't be around long."

Arbitration Looms in Chi Strike

By DEBBY RANKIN

Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. was studying today a proposal of the striking electrical workers to submit their long and sometimes bitter dispute to binding arbitration.

After a two-hour meeting Sunday called by Gilbert J. Seldin, top federal mediator, the utility agreed to consider the union's verbal proposal. A union spokesman said an answer was expected by today "at the latest."

The 69-day wage dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Systems Council 1-4, and Illinois Bell threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago.

Robert A. Nickey, chairman of the council, told a news conference that union leader had presented company officials a plan to submit the prolonged dispute to binding arbitration.

The company will "consider the proposal as expeditiously as possible," a Bell spokesman said.

Union members could return to work during arbitration said Nickey, if this procedure for settling the strike is "mutually satisfactory" to both sides. Such a step, however, "would have to be settled as a separate back-to-work agreement," he added.

Nickey said if Illinois Bell rejects arbitration, the union will have no recourse but to file a charge of "unfair bargaining practices under the NLRB (National Labor Relations Board)." The company has suggested that putting its current offer to referendum of union members would be safer for the union than placing itself in the hands of arbitrators.

John M. Bailey, national convention chairman, has warned that if the strike is not settled by July 28, the convention may be moved from Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

Crank Denies 'Utility Man' Count

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman denied Sunday that he was a "paid lobbyist of a utility company" for several years, a charge leveled by one of his opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Crank said he had been expecting such a charge from the opponent, Frank Whitbeck of Little Rock, "because he has nothing else to run on."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Crank said of the allegation.

He said that "on the rare occasions" that Whitbeck has taken a stand on an issue, "it has been only a matter of days before he takes a complete about-face on his stand. By the same logic of his asinine charge, I could have charged that he is a paid lobbyist for his insurance company."

Whitbeck is the head of a Little Rock insurance company. Crank was a vice president of the Arkansas Cement Corp., a subsidiary of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., before resigning to run for governor.

"I cannot and will not disavow any working relationship with the utility companies of our state, just as I can not and will not deny a working relationship with any other group, whoever they may be, if they are interested in promoting the welfare and growth of this state," he said.

Ted Boswell, another candidate who has charged the other four male candidates with having old guard support, also drew criticism from Crank.

"Some of my opponents also are trying to classify the people who vote for them by saying they don't want the old guard, or the left guard, or the new guard," Crank said. "They are making themselves so obnoxious to some that they should try using Right Guard," which is a deodorant.

On another subject, Crank said he would halt the "interference and harassment of the welfare affairs from the governor's office" and would fire Welfare Director Len Blaylock if Blaylock refused to resign.

Candidate Is Held in Robbery

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Miller County authorities said today that Michael Reid, Democratic candidate for the legislature, had been jailed in connection with a burglary.

Sheriff's Deputy Wallace Nance said he arrested Reid about 6 a.m. Saturday in a VFW post at Texarkana in connection with an attempted theft from the post's cash register.

Reid's bond was $500, Nance said, and the 24-year-old Texarkana was held for investigation of burglary.

Nance said the post's commander and vice commander had spent the night in the post because they wanted to catch the person or persons responsible for a series of burglaries there.

sent buildings were accomplished during the ministry of the five living pastors, Dr. Wallace R. Rogers, Dr. S. A. Whitlow, Dr. John H. McClanahan, Dr. George L. Balentine and the Rev. Gerald W. Trussell, the present pastor and the 29th during the 100-year history of the church.

Air conditioning, copious carpeting, elegant upholstery, paved parking lots, well equipped library, electric typewriters, intercom systems, modern kitchen facilities are among only a few of the amenities of the First Baptist church which have brought infeasible joy and dignified atmosphere for worship to its membership.

The oldest building on the present church grounds is a two-story buff brick which was started and finished during the ministry of Dr. Wallace R. Rogers in the deep depression days. Dr. Rogers will return to bring the Sunday morning message, July 28. The story is told that Dr. Rogers had appointed the late Dr. G. E. Cannon to head a building committee to construct the two-story building, but the committee never moved "off-center" and was quietly dismissed six weeks later.

Dr. Rogers, pursuing the need for the educational building, promptly appointed another committee, lectured the members something about "faith," and a few days later Dr. Rogers with others appeared on the scene dressed in overalls... and got construction work going. "Faith Hall," now "Fellowship Hall," became a reality.

Construction of the beautiful and spacious sanctuary at 311 South Main came during the 12-year ministry of Dr. S. A. Whitlow, now executive secretary of the Arkansas Baptist Convention and who will be speaker Sunday evening, July 28.

Dr. Whitlow also was instrumental in the founding of a mission church here, which got off to a good start and has expanded its own facilities several times. What was a small mission church is now Calvary Baptist church, West Avenue B.

Dr. John H. McClanahan became pastor in 1957 and under his leadership the newest two-story red brick air-conditioned educational building was started, and then completed during the pastorate of Dr. George L. Balentine.

The Rev. Gerald W. Trussell became pastor in January 1967, and he has seen the completion of the modern brick parsonage in The Pines Addition, and a new brick home for the music educational director, Roy E. Chatham, in Westwood Addition.

Total secured indebtedness of the entire church property is about $30,000. When this is wiped out, a new church chapel may be erected at the corner of Third & Main, joining the present two-story educational unit.

Coffee Talk Loosens Up Peace Parley

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's peace delegation said today some questions brought up at the Paris talks are also being discussed at informal "coffee breaks" during the sessions.

Nguyen Thanh Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, told a news conference that "on rare occasions" serious matters have been talked about. Up to now, the North Vietnamese have been reporting that only irrelevant chit-chat about the health, travel plans and housing difficulties of the delegation members came up.

Le said today that at the July 3 meeting, U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman had reiterated in these informal talks his thanks for the decision of the North Vietnamese government to release three more American airmen and that this subject was discussed. There was still no word on when the Americans would actually be let go.

In an interview here Saturday, Harriman said serious matters had been touched upon in the coffee breaks.

"There are a lot of trivialities and personal discussions," he said. "But one can't help but touch on serious matters. And we're getting into a little bit more of the idea of what's important in each other's minds."

The North Vietnamese spokesman said that two months of talks in Paris had not brought "a ray of hope." He said U.S. officials were spreading rumors of such hope and of "straws in the wind" in order to deceive world opinion, particularly American opinion.

The North Vietnamese again insisted that no progress can be made in the talks until "the United States unconditionally stops the bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam," the official name of North Vietnam.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — United Diversified Inc. announced Saturday it has acquired control of the Union National Bank of Little Rock, second largest bank in Arkansas.

GOPer Says He'll Get Dem. Support

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sid-nay Roberts, the unemployed salesman who is opposing Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, expresses confidence that he will receive support from Democrats in the Republican primary, but he admits that his Crossover for Roberts Committee is still not organized.

"It's working on an inactive basis," Roberts said. "It's not organized, but I think the crossover will be there."

Roberts announced in May that he was planning to organize the committee to lure Democrats into voting for him in the July 30 GOP primary. About 20,000 persons voted in the 1966 Republican primary, which Rockefeller won easily from Gus McMillan of Sheridan, by polling about 99 percent of the vote.

"If I can get an average of 400 votes per county, I can win the primary," Roberts said. That would give him about 30,000 votes, but he adds, "I'd be happy if I could draw 25,000 votes."

Roberts says he's been running a low budget campaign, visiting persons on the streets of towns throughout the state. He says he also stops in at newspapers, courthouses and city halls when he ventures in spokesman said. The bank has 200,000 shares of stock outstanding with a book value of $50 a share. United Diversified said the bank has $4 million in capital and surplus of $4 million.

Lane began his banking career in 1958 when he bought the Second State Bank of Hedley, Ark., the spokesman said. His company presently owns the First National Bank of Magnolia, Ark., and Montgomery County Bank of Mount Ida, Ark., in addition to the holdings in the Union National Bank.

Donald P. Couch, a board chairman, will continue as loan officer of the Union National and will assume additional administrative responsibilities, the spokesman said.

to a town. "I guess I'm running the lowest budget campaign ever conducted in the state," Roberts said. "I'm furnishing my own money. I did get a contribution a while back for $25 and I've had my tank filled with gas two or three times."

Asked to reveal figures on how much he's spending, Roberts declined, saying, "It's so low it would be ridiculous to even state. I imagine he (Rockefeller) would laugh if he heard the figure."

Roberts says his main problem now is a need for campaign contributions so he can advertise on television, radio and in newspapers during the last two weeks of the campaign.

"Someone told me the other day, 'Rockefeller has the money, do you have the time?' I said, 'yes sir, I have plenty of time,' Roberts said.

Roberts has charged that Rockefeller was responsible for his dismissal by the Stephens Manufacturing Co. of Muskogee, Okla., the day after he filed for office.

He also denies some reports that his campaign is being well financed by some Democrats.

"There's no truth to that," he said. "When I announced, I was in to stay. I am on my own."

Roberts said his campaigning crossed paths with Rockefeller at West Memphis earlier this week "but I missed (seeing) him."

Stumping has been limited to the Fourth of July picnics but Roberts says he plans to attend several rallies during the final weeks of the campaign.

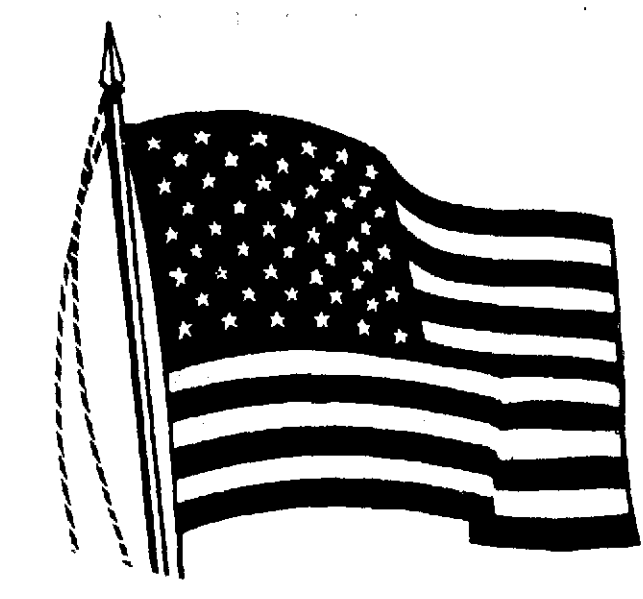

"I see more people than one might think," he says. "I start out early in the morning and go to dark."

Roberts said he told one woman in Northeast Arkansas that he was Sid Roberts and was opposing Rockefeller.

Roberts quoted her as saying, "Are you the one? Bless you, I love you. You will get a lot of votes here."

Since his Crossover for Roberts Committee is still not organized, Roberts is talking about getting the vote of the independent voters.

"If the people — the independents and Republicans — will assume additional ad-go to the polls and vote, I think I can win," he said.

The Wonder State Quartet of Jonesboro (Arkansas) Representatives to The New York World's Fair in August of '65 will appear as the featured group at The Hempstead County Singing Convention on July 20 and 21.

They are under contract to Zondervan Recording Company of Grand Rapids, Michigan and are radio and television artists. Recently they were invited by Ex-Gov. Jimmie Davis to sing at his Annual Homecoming at The Jimmie Davis Tabernacle in Jonesboro, La.

Members of the group are: Bobby Byrd, Paul Boden, Bill Hinkle, Turner Cavenar, and Jim and Dot Wilmoth.

The Convention will meet at Avery's Chapel Methodist Church. Singing will begin on Sat. night at 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday morning at 10 a.m. with dinner served on the grounds and singing resumed at 1 p.m. The Church is located on Old Hwy. 24 approximately 4 miles North of McCaskill.

Bastille Day Uneasy for France

PARIS (AP) — Small sporadic clashes between police and young demonstrators punctuated Bastille Day celebrations Sunday night in the Latin Quarter, where crowds of tourists had massed for an evening of merry-making.

Small groups of students joined the several thousand helmeted police massed along Boulevard St. Michel, on the watch for leftist disturbances. The police hurled tear gas grenades at the hecklers and launched several baton charges. A number of persons were injured.

There were few disturbances in the capital during the day when thousands turned out in drizzling rain to watch the annual parade reviewed by President Charles de Gaulle in his brigadier general's uniform. With De Gaulle were Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and other members of the new Cabinet.

GREEN TEA HELD
On Sunday, July 14, from 3 - 6 p.m., the Recreation Center at City Park was the scene for a Green Tea Sponsored by the Beebe Memorial C.M.E. Church in the interest of the Budget Drive. Mrs. Percy Turner and Mrs. Ruby Whitley were Co-Chairmen for the occasion; Rev. S. B. Tollette, Pastor, The Food, Decoration, and Ticket Committees were composed of members of the General Church. With a color scheme of pink & blue, tables were covered with white cloths and each centered with an arrangement of beautiful flowers provided by Mrs. Percy Turner, Leona Hill, Nathaniel Hall, Odessa Bradley, and others. We appreciate everyone's cooperation in this effort.

The menu for the occasion was: ribbon sandwiches, punch, potato chips, cake, candies, and nuts.

Members of the Usher Board assisting with food service were: Mrs. Ontee Douglas, Misses Brenda Cooper, Betty Muldrew, Barbara Bradley, Linda Nelson, Valerie Pearson, Denise Tate, and Terri Whitley. Everyone enjoyed the occasion and we appreciate the assistance given by all in this effort.

down the barricades the students threw up in May and June.

The red, white and blue of the French Tricolor were in evidence everywhere. Few persons wore the red roses of the left wing in their lapels.

There were scattered riots throughout the capital Saturday night, and about 20 persons were injured, including seven policemen.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset of some nine divisions in the Saigon region and along the major infiltration routes leading to the capital. But they have not been able to find and destroy a significant enemy formation, either on the way to Saigon or in their pre-attack positions.

Some 15 enemy battalions are reported within 15 miles of Saigon. One highly placed Vietnamese source says some 1,000 enemy troops have infiltrated the city itself despite the ring of defending troops and hundreds of police checkpoints.

The establishment of a vastly beefed up capital military district command is a tacit admission that the Viet Cong cannot be stopped before they reach Saigon. During the two previous offensives this year, some 4,000 troops managed to penetrate the city in February and about 1,200 in May and June. The allied command was caught flatfooted in February but had ample warning of the May offensive.

Mountains of intelligence on the expected "third wave" attack is in allied hands, but the vital details of just where individual enemy units are holed up are not part of it.

One U.S. source said lagging intelligence has resulted in 852 strikes as much as a day behind enemy movement toward the capital. The Strategic Forces are supposed to destroy the enemy regiments before they can get into position for an attack.

Most tactical intelligence apparently comes from electronic and photographic devices and the like, most of them carried by plane. Due to past demonstrations that U.S. and government troops cannot prevent enemy regiments from moving through the countryside, reports on enemy movements from villagers has dried up significantly, one source reported.

The villagers face multiple problems if they help. Allied troops may attack their village, causing widespread damage. Or the helpful villagers may be betrayed and executed, along with all their families. The Communist punishment for informers is swift, brutal and final.

Thus the old Communist strategy of swimming their fish through the waters of the people remains as fundamentally sound as ever. That 1,000 of these fish can swim undetected in Saigon itself shows that the strategy works as well in the cities as in the countryside.

Allied ground units are also severely hampered by new restrictions on the use of artillery and air power around Saigon, even to defend themselves, some U.S. officers feel. The extent of the restrictions is a military secret. But the U.S. and South Vietnamese feel the restrictions are necessary to prevent widespread devastation in and around the city that would alienate the people.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

PLAN FOR YOUR FENCE BEFORE YOU PICK IT

By MR. FIX

A fence can be for privacy, for looks or to establish a property line. It can do one or many things and it can be attractive and useful if you plan it well.

If you plan to put up a fence, check first with your local building department. Local ordinances differ concerning height, types of fencing and location. Generally, your fence should not encroach on adjoining property or on a right-of-way.

Plan a fence that will blend or harmonize with house and property. A white picket fence, for example, goes with a tailored, well-manicured lawn and garden. With tall shrubbery and trees a rustic fence may be more appropriate. A fence made of material similar to your house would look like an extension of the house wall.

Keep the top of the fence horizontal. This is especially important near the house. If it is some distance from the house, a sloping fence line may be all right. If there is a severe slope near the house, change the line of the fence in a series of steps.

Types of fences are limited by your imagination and your pocketbook. Lumber yards often carry a wide variety of fences made up in eight-foot lengths. If you see something you like, you may be able to save money by purchasing the material and fabricating your own. Figure carefully though, and allow some value for your time. Prefabrication of fence panels can be relatively inexpensive when mass-produced.

Heavy steel-wire fencing, generally used for protection and privacy rather than looks, is best installed by a fencing company. Special equipment is needed to stretch the fence so that it will be taut.

The main strength of a fence is provided by its posts. Generally these are of 4x4 stock. Doubled 2x4s can be used but this is not as desirable. Posts this size are good enough for picket fences up to six feet high.

Higher fences or solid fences—which would offer wind resistance—should have 6x6 posts. Use 6x6s for corner posts in any event.

For even a light fence sink posts at least two feet. For a high or solid fence, add another six or 12 inches to the depth.

Fence posts should be treated with a preservative. If you cannot buy treated stock, soak the posts in preservative overnight or longer. If you can't find a container large enough for soaking, spray or paint the solution on. Have posts dry so they will soak up the preservative. Be careful in handling the posts since most preservatives can irritate the skin.

For digging post holes buy or rent an auger or post hole digger. The former is twisted into the earth like a drill. The latter looks like two shovels hinged together for lifting out the earth—good in rocky soil.

If your soil is well-drained, keep your holes to the size you need. In clay dig a wider hole and fill with gravel to permit drainage. If the soil is loose and may not hold, nail a couple of cross-cleats (2x3 scraps about a foot long) at the bottom and pack soil in.

If you set the posts in concrete—and you should for gate and corner posts anyway—fill the bottom of the hole with gravel first. Set the post, add gravel and then add concrete to a point above ground level. Make certain the post is level first. Smooth off concrete at a slant so that water will drain away from it. If concrete shrinks away from the post when dry, fill the gap with asphalt.

New York Governor Is Confident

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For a man waging tough uphill fight, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller takes a highly optimistic view of his chances of winning the Republican presidential nomination—even to the point of talking privately about forging a Rockefeller-Nixon ticket.

Rockefeller has started a few confidantes in recent days by speculating on the possibility that Richard M. Nixon, his chief rival for the nomination, might wind up as his running mate.

In one such conversation, the governor said a lot of people think a Rockefeller-Nixon pairing would make the strongest ticket and that they think it will turn out that way in the convention.

The governor points out during such discussions that there is a rather ambiguous provision in the U.S. Constitution attempting to bar selection of a president and vice president from the same state.

The solution, he suggests, is that either he or Nixon would have to move out of New York state—and that Nixon would be the logical one to move.

Rockefeller publicly has ruled out any prospect that he would run for vice president. Privately he says he could not play second fiddle to Nixon, or anyone else.

In presuming, however, that Nixon would be willing to settle for second place, Rockefeller illustrates the attitude he brings to his quest for the presidency—that he is the best the Republican party has to offer and that it just has to recognize this.

In the nearly 11 weeks since he entered the competition against Nixon, Rockefeller has traveled more than 50,000 miles to carry his message into 42 of 50 states. He makes it 43 today, going into Indiana to begin a Midwest tour.

He has enjoyed large crowds, partly at least because of good planning by his expert advance men, and his audiences generally have responded well to his bustling campaign style.

The governor and his strategists say they are pleased with the way that phase of the campaign is going—the object being to arouse popular support that will be reflected in public opinion polls and influence convention delegates or the party leaders who control them.

In another, more critical part of his strategy, Rockefeller has talked personally with the delegations in nearly all of the states he visited. He tells them in these closed-door sessions that he's the man who can win big in November and carry state and local candidates to victory with him.

At the same time, he suggests—but does not say so outright—that Nixon can't win, and he reminds them of the serious losses suffered by the GOP when Barry Goldwater was crushed by President Johnson in 1964.

ble switches from Nixon to Rockefeller as a result of this tactic, but Rockefeller says he never asks for immediate support.

"I tell them," he says, "that I want them to know they have an alternate, if and when they decide they need one—maybe on the second or third ballot."

And this is the essence of Rockefeller's victory plan at the moment.

Brazil Girl New Miss Universe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Martha Vasconcellos, a bright-eyed schoolteacher from Brazil, walks into a new world today as Miss Universe.

With a wave of her scepter, a nod of her sparkling crown and a losing effort to fight back happy tears, Miss Vasconcellos ascended her throne Saturday night. She was chosen the loveliest of girls from 65 countries.

Until next July when she returns to Miami Beach to hand her crown to Miss Universe 1969, Miss Vasconcellos will spend her time trotting about the globe, earning the $10,000 she is promised in a personal appearance contract.

In addition, the crown carries an award of $10,000, a $7,500 chinchilla jacket and stacks of lesser prizes. When making personal appearances, she is fully chaperoned and travels first class.

Photographers—like those who posed her in bed with her trophy and then trooped to the beach with her Sunday—will become an integral part of her life for the next year.

But the 12 months of merry-go-round activity have hardly started and already Miss Vasconcellos admits, despite the admiring hordes: "I am lonely. I am without my family for the first time."

She tried repeatedly to call her parents Sunday, but couldn't get through. She finally settled for a telegram.

Miss Universe likes both her hair and her skirts long. The 5-foot-8, 130-pound beauty says she likes miniskirts but on other girls. "On me I think they're ugly because I am tall," she said.

Miss Vasconcellos has definite ideas about her future. After she hands over her crown next year, she'll go home to her childhood sweetheart, Reynaldo Lou-Reiro, an engineer. "We'll marry as soon as I can," she said.

Friday she will fly home to see her fiancée and her family in Salvador where her father is a police official.

And there will be a special conversation with a younger brother who told her: "You will never win."

Miss Curacao, Anne Marie Braafheid, was the first runner-up and would become the first Negro to wear the world beauty crown should Miss Vasconcellos be unable to meet her commitments. The other three finalists were Miss Finland, Leena Bruslin; Miss Venezuela, Peggy Kopp; and Miss USA, Dorothy Anstett.

Rickover Hits Naval Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says the U.S. Naval Academy is not producing the mature, confident and well-educated officers the modern Navy needs.

Rickover also says the Defense Department "is too much influenced by an industry viewpoint" in its dealings with defense contractors and their profits, "far from being too low as claimed," may be too high.

The deputy commander of the Navy's nuclear propulsion programs issued the broadsides at a closed House appropriations subcommittee hearing in May. His testimony was released today.

"Naval Academy midshipmen generally lack poise, self-confidence and maturity," Rickover said. "They give the appearance of having these qualities, but it is a superficial appearance with little depth."

He said the most prevalent deficiencies he finds in interviews each year of many Naval Academy and Naval Reserve Officer Training midshipmen fall into the categories of insufficient academic preparation and immaturity.

Academy officials could not be reached for comment. Rickover said he had been told by one member of the Class of 1967 that grades are the important thing at the academy and that "the instructors don't care too much if a midshipman learns the theory as long as he can pass the quizzes."

The admiral, a 1922 graduate of the academy, said he believes the general lack of poise, confidence and maturity "are caused by the idealistic but impractical attempts by the Naval Academy to include broad coverage of military training, professional and academic education, sports, etc., with giving anything up." An emphasis on military indoctrination and training, he said, "is fostered by a strong professional military officer organization centered in the executive department" of the academy at Annapolis, Md.

"This conflicts," he said, "with achievement of proper academic education in fundamental concepts and theory."

Rickover said he was aware that steps have been taken to correct some of the deficiencies at the academy but expressed the belief that few significant changes have been made in the overall training.

Naval Academy is not new. In recent years he accused the school of spending too much time on frills and not enough on teaching knowledge.

In similar testimony to a House appropriations subcommittee in 1966 he said the academy's greatest weakness, "the one that harms its students most, is the indoctrination which leads to an adolescent outlook."

As for defense contracts, he said in the testimony released today that contractors are able to "hide large profits in costs so that the government never really knows . . . how much profit a company actually makes . . ."

an excessive interchange of personnel between government and industry has led to some cases where government contract officials deal with their former companies and vice versa.

"Substantial amounts of technical information regarding this country's military capabilities," Rickover said, "are being given away through advertising of government contractors," much of it at government expense.

First Census
The first census of the Christian era was ordered by Augustus Caesar, according to St. Luke, when Quirinius was governor of Syria. Everyone was to go to his city to be counted and taxed.
